Regarding: Hagerstown Plaza Project

Dear Whitney,

As we all know and can remember, this project was no easy task. MK Concrete Construction had cold weather (working thru the months of Nov, Dec, Jan), a temperamental building inspector, and other daily issues to deal with on this project.

Despite the issues & hindrances, MK continued to do everything they could each day. You shoveled snow so that you could excavate for footings. You constantly were taking cold weather blankets on and off the work areas so that work could continue and the sub-grade would remain suitable for concrete placement. You guys really did everything you could to keep the project progressing. Uniwest could not have made this a successful project without you.

I really appreciate the attitude and relationship that your on-site supervisor Eric Straouss had with our Project Superintendent, Jamie White. These guys worked very well together and made our work much easier. These relationships are what make these projects successful for all parties.

Everyone at MK Concrete Construction that was involved in this project should be proud of their contribution to make this a success. I look forward to doing more work in the future with you and MK Concrete Construction.

Sincerely,

Jason McGraw
